What are cookies?

Do you really want to know? Let's do it, cookies don't have to worry. Cookies are small text documents created by a website that browsers store on the devices of users of a particular website. When you ever open the same site again, the cookies travel through the browser back to the server from which they came to your device. And there they pass on the information about user activity that you allow them to. However, everything is completely anonymous so that you cannot be identified. This is the kind of cookie most websites use today.

Why do we need cookies?

Without cookies, ordering with us would be very complicated and difficult. Technical cookies help us keep all the information about your bookings.

How do we divide cookies?

Web cookies are divided according to different parameters. They are divided into long-lasting and short-lasting cookies according to the period of time they are stored on your device. And depending on who ultimately uses the cookies, there are first-party cookies (stored by the website itself) and third-party cookies (used for third-party applications and services).

First-party cookies are created and stored by the website itself and are often necessary for the site or part of the site to work for you. They are linked to the specific domain of the website operator and can be both short and long term. Third party cookies are linked to third party websites. This is a functional tool that is usually used for targeted advertising.

What cookies do we use?

Preferably the ones you allow. We may store some, but also all, of the cookies described below in your browser. It depends on how you navigate the site. You can view and manage the cookies we put on your browser at any time. However, mobile or tablet browsers may not offer this option. Technické, nezbytné cookies

We've created these cookies so you can conveniently order great experiences on MN.

Analytical and marketing cookies

- These cookies were not baked by us, but by third parties. And they also store them in your browser. You may come across these third parties on our website:Google: <https://policies.google.com/technologies/cookies?hl=cs-cz>
- Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/policy/cookies/>

Tell us YES! How to do it when it's just about cookies?

When you open Redseadives.com and Redseadives.com, a notification window will open to let you know that we also use cookies. It is in this window that you can choose, at your discretion, which groups of cookies you allow us to use. And we'll take your word for it.

You can withdraw your consent to the use of cookies at any time.

And be careful - it can be disabled, but be careful

Some people just don't need cookies. If this is the case for you, simply set your browser to handle cookies. The main thing is that you can delete any cookies you have stored at any time. Depending on your browser's capabilities, you can also restrict the use of cookies to a specific website, limit their storage, or set your browser to delete all cookies as soon as you close it. However, you should think carefully about which cookies you disable. You will not be able to buy from us without necessary - functional cookies.
